Overdraft Facility Fees and Unarranged Overdraft Fees

Overdrafts increase the available funds in your account. An arranged overdraft is one you organise with us in advance. We may also agree to provide you with an unarranged overdraft if you do not have sufficient funds in your account, or because you have used up your available credit to cover, for example, a payment out of your account.

Fees and interest are payable on both arranged and unarranged overdrafts and what you are charged depends on whether you have an arranged overdraft or not. See the Account fees table for your specific account for more details.

Rates and fees are subject to change. For more information on overdrafts, see section 7 of our Standard Terms and Conditions, and (if you have an arranged overdraft) your overdraft agreement.
